Whats on this week

(ADA+ RS)

- Zoom activity every night this week and it will be run by socials and their committee. Tuesday is trivia and that's social and campus are doing that together. Fridays event is going to mimic an event from Law Camp which will see some games and then a scripted chat to discuss more of the academic side of law school

(AN)

- SULS exec catchup the purpose is to have a friendly chat with members of the society. Prepare questions and information to provide if it becomes too quiet but otherwise it will be an informal chat

(FM)

- Last week of clerkship presentations- if you can tune in and drop a question in the chat to get the ball rolling that will be good. Thanks, everyone for coming to the events so far.

- KWM has asked people to get questions before their presentation so if you have any questions type it in there (Mark)

(SP+ST)

- Come along to the contract moot- three talented mooters on it and it's going to be good

(OA)

- Strava group made by a person on sports committee. In regards to workout link will go out at 10:00am.
- Suggestion for a bondi to manly walk cut into various sections - we could do this potentially in june
- Will workout more concrete details of how this will work

(FM)

- Family law panel - please come to this!

(AC)

- Need more people to write abstracts for Yemaya and Mosiac

Week 10 Exec Meeting (DE)

- Want to clarify no one is trying to politicize suls
- We just want to establish what as a law society we can and can't do
- Before we had this conversation there was a petty hard no on any form of advocacy
- But we think we've achieved a compromise to speak on issues that impact our members
- Because there's more guidance it will allow us to preemptively working on these issues rather than retrospectively discussing them
- The issue about conflict of interest will only arise on a case by case basis and in the unlikely event there is a conflict because someone works at parliament we do need to discuss a potential conflict that could influence their decision

Education Portfolio (NL)

- Law School basics on the 20th of May in relation to online exams
- Exam timetables have been released now
- Reason login not working is because law school decided to take initiative to do their own timetable which is why it is in separate PDF form
- Because of that there has been a bit of delay
- Speaking to Rita about this tomorrow to address some concerns
- Send anything over slack that you want to have asked in the panel

Return to Campus to Sem 2 (OA)

- Something has been messaged about returning midway through sem two and this seems a bit arbitrary and a bit of a strange goal to work towards
- (AC) friend at UWA they are guaranteeing that even if classes return to campus that courses can be done online so that is a compromise
- (AN) in regards to this there has been discussions about it and general response is that it's hard to tell at this point. Just a lot of variables at play. Not only a decision being decided by the law school or vice-chancellors office or students in general. In terms of going back to campus main play would be the government saying that's okay to campus. Might be able to go back for seminars and tutorials but not for lecturers because of the 100 people max rule, but having said that in NSW it's more complicated and up to the states but what I can assure is that the vice-chancellor's office is having constant contact with the government.
